

HISTORIAN & MEDIA RELATIONS

November 2026

A Month of Gratitude and Remembrance

November is a time dedicated to gratitude, remembrance, and appreciation as communities come together to honor veterans and their families. Historians have a unique chance to preserve these significant moments for future generations. It's essential to focus on documenting ceremonies from beginning to end, capturing:

- Wreath presentations
- Guest speakers
- Wreath presentations
- Guest speakers
- School programs
- Parades
- Community participation
- Display historic Auxiliary photos
- Invite local media to cover your ceremony
- Record short interviews with veterans and ask what Veterans Day means to them

With Veterans Day approaching, I encourage all Auxiliaries to seize the opportunity to document as many moments as possible. With smartphones in nearly everyone's hands, I challenge each Auxiliary to create a reel or collage of photographs to share on social media. Let's highlight the efforts your Auxiliaries are making for our veterans, their families, and the community as we head into the holiday season.

Remember to share and report!

Create a "Veterans' Voices" Project: by collecting five veteran stories using the 5 W's. Include a photo with each story and share one each week on social media
