VFW and VFW Auxiliary Emblem and Logo Use

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States (VFW) and VFW Auxiliary Emblems (Cross of MALTA), as well as the VFW and VFW Auxiliary Logos, are registered trademarks owned by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. Accordingly, the VFW retains sole and exclusive rights to its seals, emblems, badges, and insignia. These marks may not be reproduced, displayed, or otherwise used without the written consent of the Quartermaster General of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

The VFW Emblem (Cross of MALTA) and VFW Auxiliary Emblem (Cross of MALTA) should be reserved for official correspondence and for ceremonial and honored purposes. With regard to attire, the Emblem may be worn only by a member of the respective organization.

The VFW Logo and the VFW Logo with the word "Auxiliary" underneath may be used on letterhead, flyers, programs, promotional materials, and items purchased through the VFW Store. Any other use of these logos must be approved by the Office of the Quartermaster General. The VFW permits its Logo to be worn by individuals who support the organization, regardless of whether they are members.
